

On Building a New Hillingdon Hospital

Not only are conversations with the redevelopment team at Hillingdon Hospital on-going and progressive, I have also organised for the Secretary of State for Health, Victoria Atkins, to visit the new hospital in Spring. This came as a result of my question at Prime Minister's Questions early January, which you can watch here.

Fighting Against ULEZ Expansion

I am continuing the fight against the Mayor of London's war on motorists. That's why I shared my views on GB News on how it's integral for residents of Uxbridge & South Ruislip to vote for Susan Hall on the 2nd of May, as she will stop ULEZ on day one of her mayoralty.

The interview also covered the Post Office scandal and Rwanda Bill. Click here to watch.

Protecting our Precious Green Spaces

I respond to casework everyday, and recently I have had a large proportion of litter and fly-tipping cases from concerned residents.

As a councillor for South Ruislip, I am in touch with local councillors in the constituency on a regular basis to resolve local issues.

Improving our High Streets and Supporting Local Business

I know how hard our deliverers and drivers work, especially as I worked alongside them in my time working for Royal Mail.

Their contribution to our economy is hugely valued and I explain more on why I support them, here.

School Tours

I regularly welcome school children to Parliament, hosting Q&As and giving educational welcoming school children to Parliament, hosting Q&As and giving educational tours.

In January, I welcomed Uxbridge High School for a tour of Parliament, as well as to catch up with them before their Lessons at 10 at Downing Street. I also hosted a Q&A for Ruislip High School and Bourne Primary School.

Upgrades in Schools to expand SEND places

I attended the S.E.N.D Reform England Parliamentary drop-in where I met their diligent and hard-working team. I greatly support their aims to get more SEND funding, which I mentioned in the chamber here. I also learnt a lot about the impact on mental health for SEND families, which was further discussed at the Samaritans Parliamentary drop-in that I attended, find out more here.

Being active is a way to improve not only our physical, but also our mental health. The importance of sport for all, especially for our youth and SEND children, was expressed in the Youth Sport Trust Parliamentary drop-in. I continue to support local sports teams such as the football clubs in my constituency. I spoke on behalf of them in the Chamber regarding television venue distribution here.

Highlight in January

This month I asked a question to the Culture Minister, Julia Lopez, on preserving our heritage assets. Watch it here. I also hosted my first Westminster Hall debate on what heritage Uxbridge & South Ruislip offer the rest of the UK here. Identifying, protecting and capitalising our heritage is important to me, and I wrote about that here.

On Building a New Hillingdon Hospital

Whether it is a call or a visit, I always touch base with Hillingdon Hospital. Recently, I received photos of parts of the building that date back to the 1940s and are now in the process of removal. Read more about it here.

In the constituency

I watch with interest the progress of the New Hillingdon Hospital project and how much it will positively impact residents of Uxbridge and South Ruislip.

Getting our share of extra police on the beat across London to keep our community safe

Police and crime is a priority of mine as it is raised in most of my surgeries, casework and calls. Despite our Mayor of London not doing much, I take my residents' concerns directly to the Superintendent and local police of Uxbridge and South Ruislip for immediate investigation.

Fighting Against ULEZ Expansion

On a recent campaign event in Uxbridge with Susan Hall, the Conservative Mayor of London candidate, the response on the doorsteps was clear.

Residents are still furious with the ULEZ expansion.

It's time we get rid of Mayor Khan who made London not only the slowest city in terms of traffic, but also the enemy of black cab drivers, and practically all motorists.

Supporting our grassroots football clubs

Recently I met the former MP and Hillingdon legend John Randall on our shared goal of promoting local football clubs such as Uxbridge FC, see here.

Improving our High Streets and Supporting Local Business

It was fantastic to meet Stephen Moorhouse (VP&GM) at Coca Cola in the Uxbridge HQ, where we discussed packaging, health and distribution. Read more here.

I also visited Trinity Homeless Project, which is run by Steve Hedley. He made me aware that there were certain barriers between his communication with the council. I have spoken to my colleagues at Hillingdon Council on how we can remove this barrier. I look forward to continue working with Steve Hedley.

Surgery Update

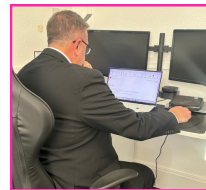

- Topics that were covered in my January surgeries were:
- Housing
 - Housing Associations
 - Immigration
 - Shingles Vaccine
 - Small boats
 - Rwanda

I take my surgeries very seriously, and as you can see, they vary on topic. In addition to surgeries, I make regular phone calls.

If you would like to book a call or surgery with me, please email steve.tuckwell.mp@parliament.uk

Upgrades in Schools to expand SEND places

I visited Colham Manor Primary School and met KS1 & KS2 pupils who asked questions about my career, Parliament & democracy. I also went on a tour of the school and met members of the Pupil Parliament, who were really interested in what I do for the local community and keen to share with me details of their democracy project.

Colham Manor Primary School is one of the many schools in Uxbridge and South Ruislip, that work inclusively with local families to maximize the learning potential of all SEND children in the community.
